Around the clock with saddles and sox

THE CHIEF OF 1946-47

presented by the Annual Staff of Greenville High School, Greenville, Ohio

Saddles are nationally recognized as the mark of the teenager because their scuffed, careless appearance may best express the carefree feeling of young people.

Looking more closely, we find by taking those shoes apart—down to the last nail—a sort of comparison between school life of a young person and those shoes he loves so well. In doing this we also find, for all the casual love of fun expressed, that the foundation for citizenship built through the school years is done so not without labor.

So - - -

Take the strings for instance. Just as you've seen how shoes are held together by the laces, we'll show you how school spirit is entwined about the students until they are firmly bound together in a friendship which is shown by the various clubs and organizations of school life.

While a pair of saddles has about 20 eyes, a student has only two. It's those eyes, however, that provide a young person with his biggest means of learning. With them he reads great books, studies famous old paintings and views Mother Nature in her school of the great out of doors.

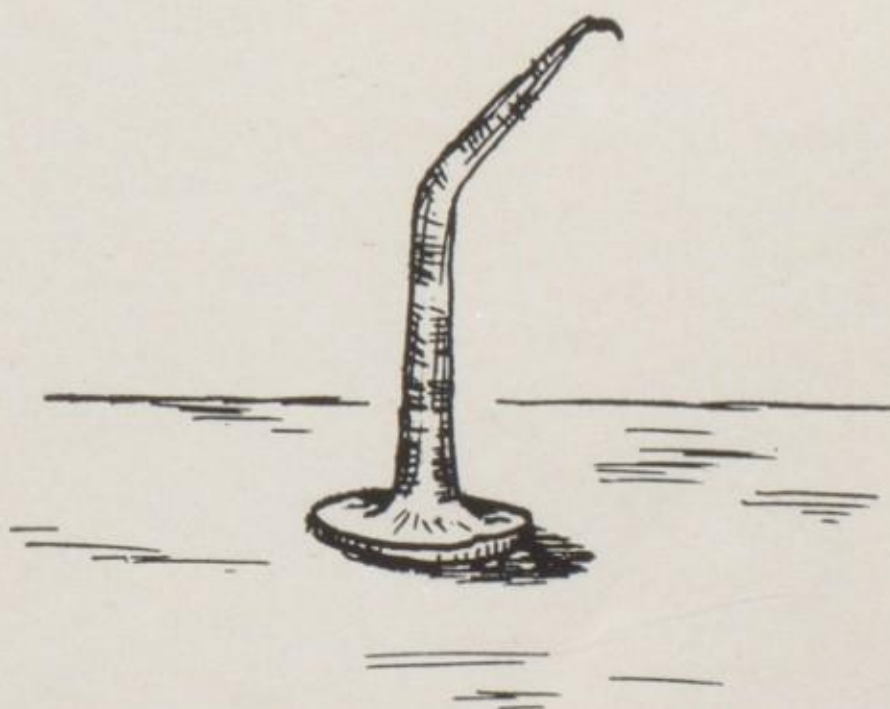

The tongue in a shoe would be sorely missed if it were not included. So would it be a very serious loss if humans had no tongues with which to express their ideas to others. Neither could they benefit from other people's thoughts. It is through this exchange of thoughts that many great ideas have been born.

Then, too, a shoe has a "soul." It is with the sole as a foundation that a shoe is built. Let's call the underlying principle upon which a school is built, school spirit. Just as a good sole makes a good shoe so does good school spirit make a good high school.

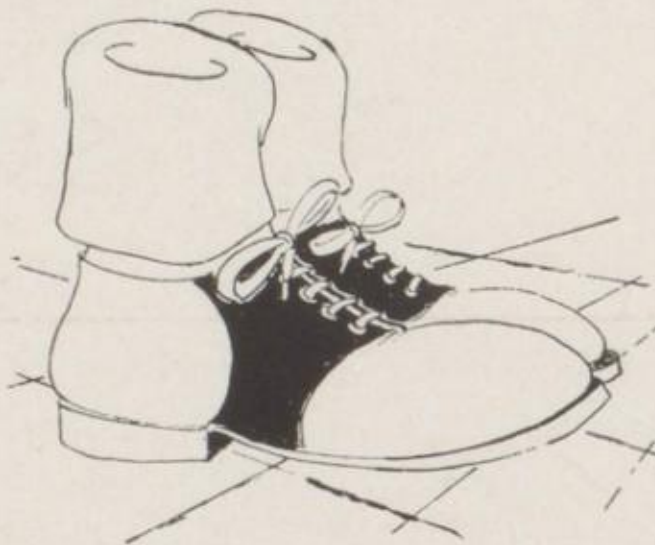

The arch in a shoe provides comfort and ease for the wearer. So does a good basic education acquired in high school make for an easier and happier life. Our high school is for many of us the bridge between adolescence and adulthood.

A tiny shoe nail is only one of the things that go to make up a well built shoe. Though small, it plays a very important role in the shoe construction. Many things go to make up a well rounded student. He needs recreation, study, civic interest, social interest, and leadership for a happy school life.

FOREWORD

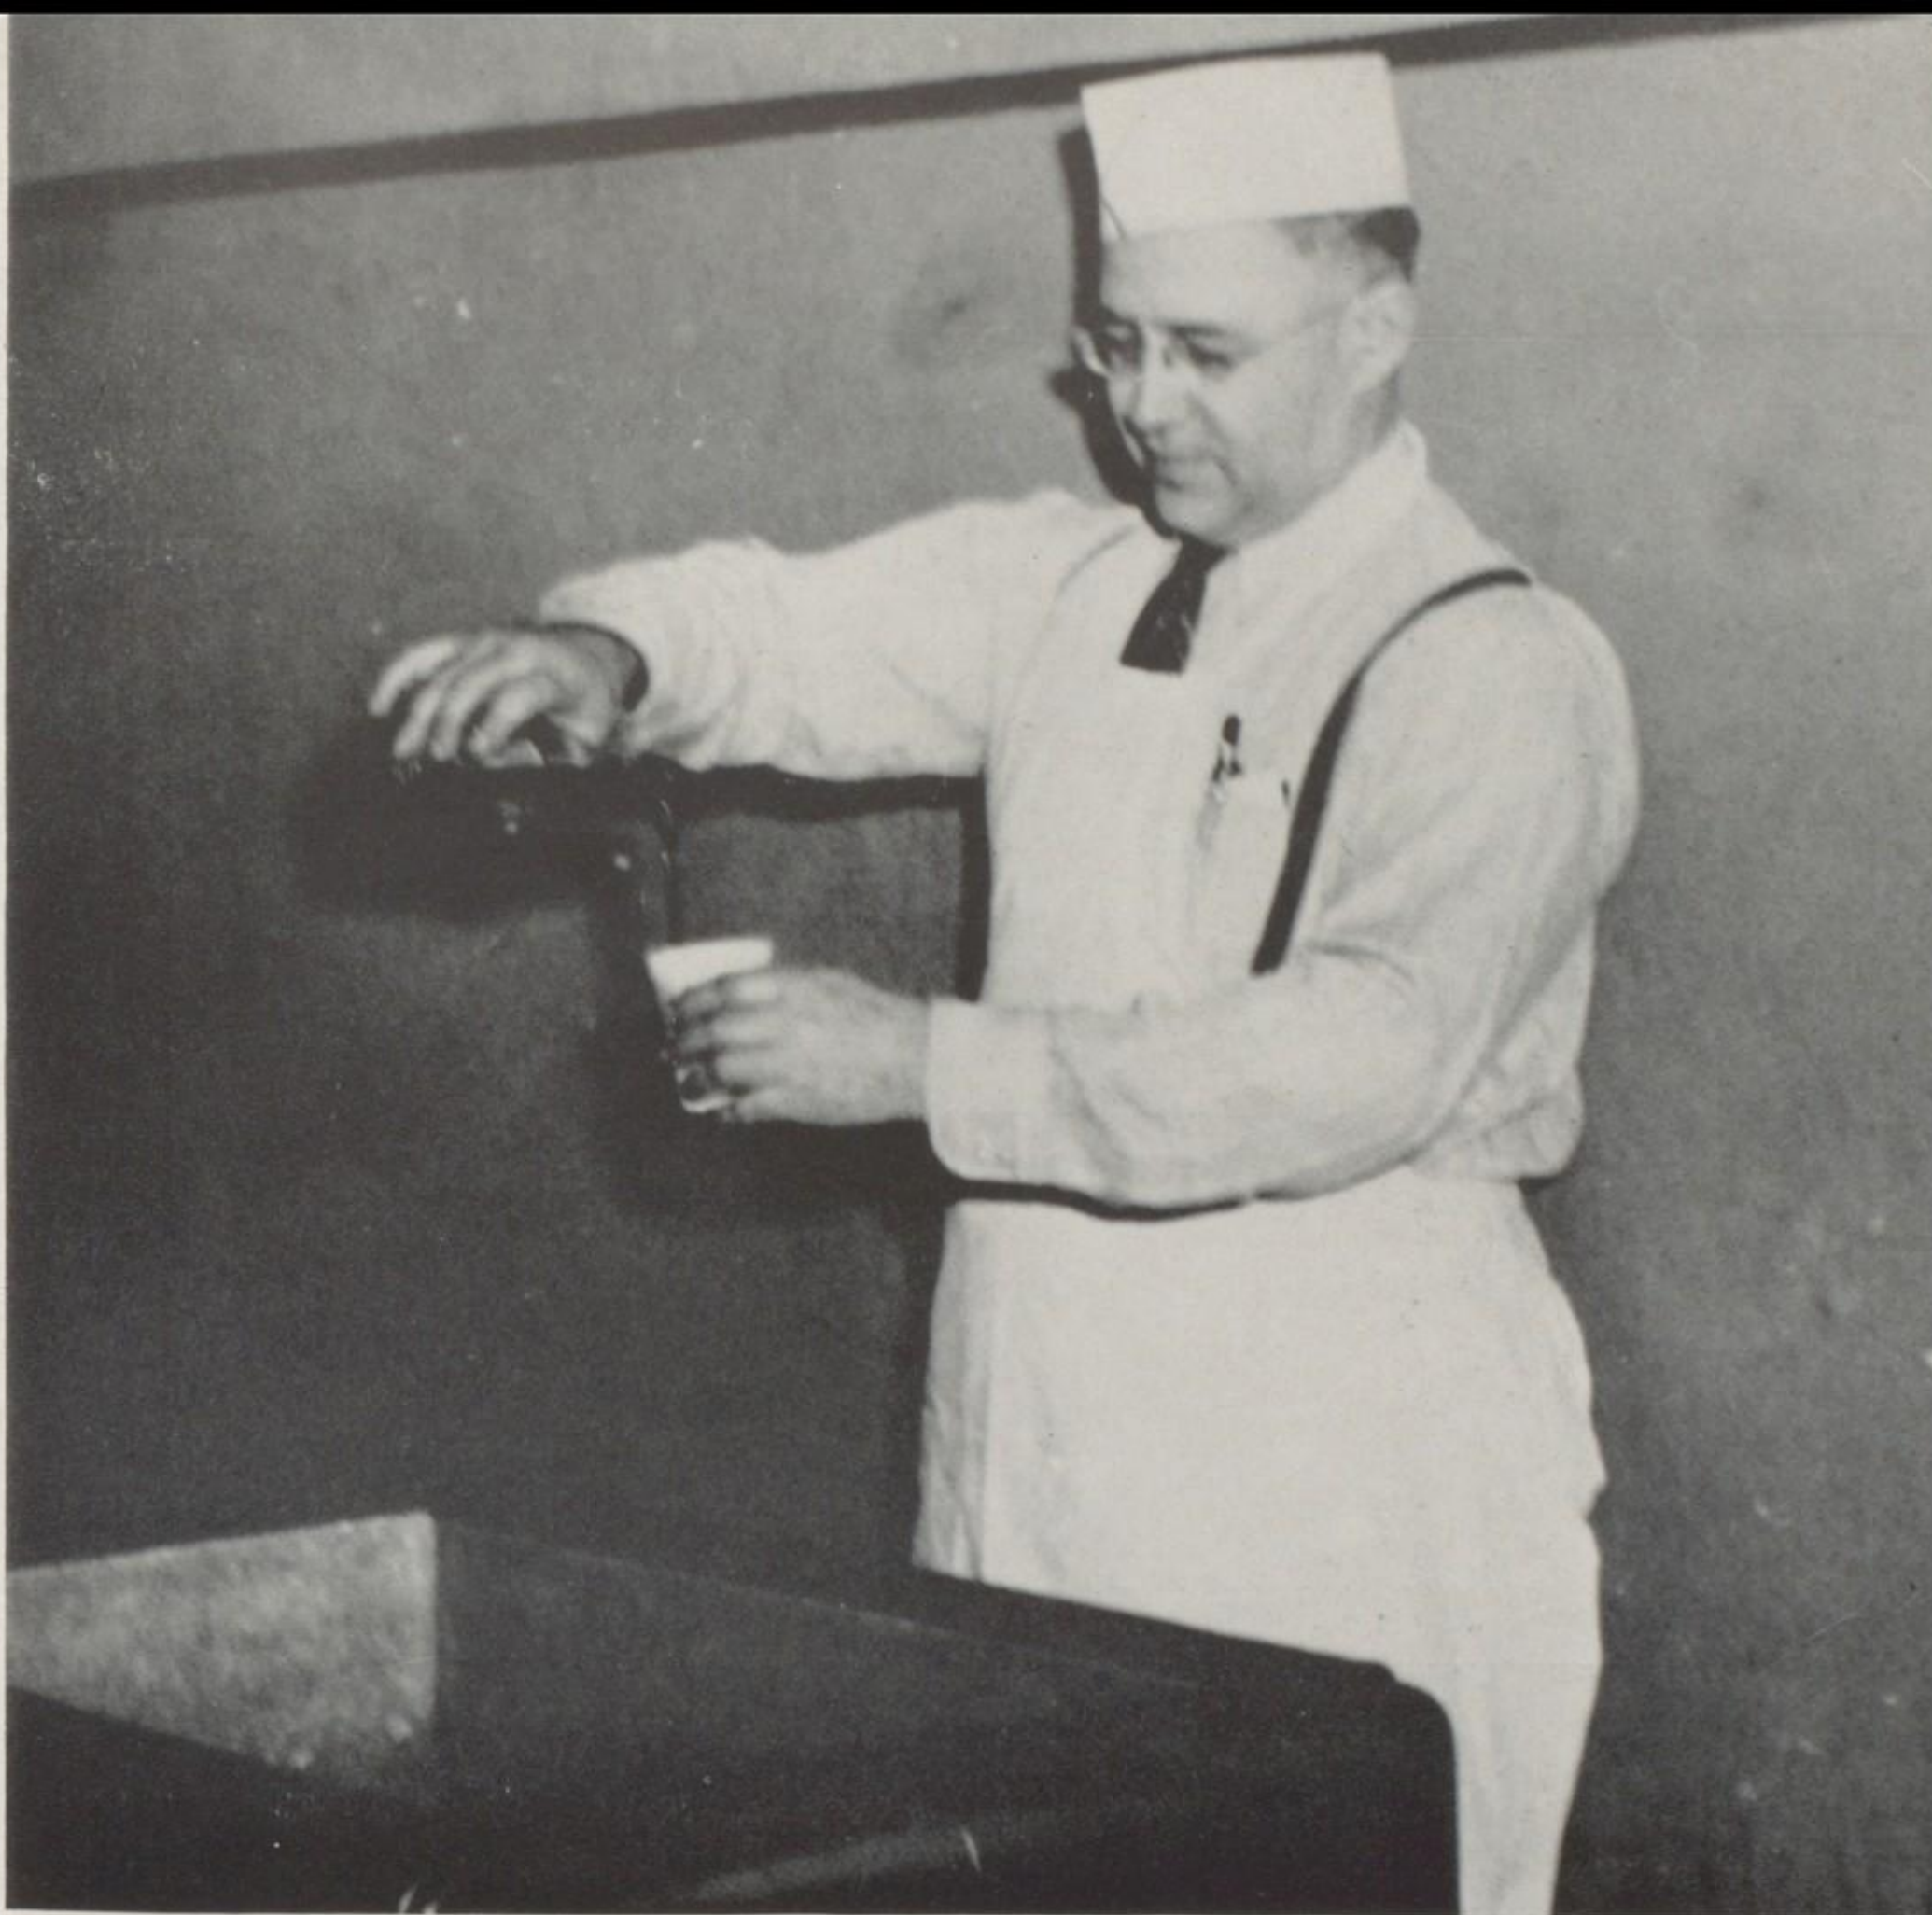

It is the goal of the Staff of the 1947 "Chief" to give to you, the Students of G.H.S., a yearbook by which in years to come you may review all the events and activities of the past school years. Therefore, we shall take you "Around the Clock with Saddles and Sox."

As we see them every day

It is through the help of the faculty members that the students form habits of good citizenship, which follow through life, long after graduation day.

And this particular person--

In appreciation of his aid, guidance, thoughtfulness, and encouragement, we wish to dedicate the "Chief" of 1947 to our advisor and friend, Mr. Phelps.

Now we see our past

SENIOR CLASS HISTORY

In September, 1943, we, the class of "47", began our high school days. The freshmen officers were Helen Dickey, president; Roberta Wogaman, vice-president; Gloria Shiverdecker, secretary; Howard Patton, treasurer; and Betty Brown, reporter.

The big event of the year was our class party, the Jolly Rogers.

In 1943 the first G.H.S. handbook was produced. The staff was composed of Freshmen. The primary purpose of the handbook was to help new students become accustomed to the school.

The officers in the sophomore year were Bob Green, president; Jean Taylor, vice-president; Leona Beisner, secretary; Connie Monks, treasurer; and Jean Corle, reporter. "The Bum's Rush" was our class party that year.

At last we were juniors. We had a campaign election and the results were Dick Gangwer, president; Eddie Karn, vice-president; Alice Coppess, secretary; Don Reigle, treasurer; and Kathryn Goodrich, reporter. Activities rating high spots were the junior-senior prom and the class play, "Every Family Has One," directed by Miss Boyer, junior English teacher.

Now we are seniors. The cabinet that guided us through the year was Jack Clark, president; Lowell Stark, vice-president; George Bowman, secretary; Alice Coppess, treasurer; and Bob Green, reporter. Big things on the agenda this year were publishing the annual, the magazine drive, and the senior class play, "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," directed by Mr. Corle, senior English teacher.

JUNIOR CLASS

In 1944, the members of the Junior Class entered G.H.S. as Freshmen.

The Cherry Frolic, the class party, was the big event that year. The officers were as follows: Dick Faulknor, president; Ned Rhoades, vice-president; Jo Ann Sharp, secretary; Phyllis Miller, treasurer; and Pat O'Brien, reporter. Miss Alexander was the class sponsor.

The next year, the class found itself with another class beneath it, and did its best to make the Freshmen realize their lowly position.

The sophomore year, the class officers, Harvey Dunlap, president; Charles Rentz, vice-president; Joan Baker, secretary-treasurer; and Jack Corle, reporter, helped plan the "Jitterbug Jive," the class party. Mr. Stoltz was class advisor.

Marline Spille was elected president for the year 1946-1947. Those to assist her were Charles Rentz, vice-president; Jo Ann Sharp, secretary; Shirley Stebbins, treasurer; and Ted Grote, reporter. The highlights of the junior year were the Junior-Senior Prom and the Junior Class Play. Mr. Raudabaugh was class advisor this year.

Although there are only 118 members of the class of '49, the sophomores hope that their class will be one of the mightiest ever to tread the halls of G.H.S.

In keeping with becoming freshmen, they too endured the tortures and fun of initiation. They looked forward, though to the coming year when they would have their fun.

At the beginning of the freshmen year, elections were held with the following students being chosen officers for the coming year: President, Bill Hile; Vice-President, Dick Canan; Secretary, Sussanne Murphy; Treasurer, Jim Gray; and Reporter, Jean Bayman. Miss Alexander was the edvisor.

A party named "Forty-Niners Festival" was attended by a large percentage of the class. Also, several English contests were held to benefit the class its freshman year. Later in the year, several members presented a radio skit to the student body.

At the beginning of their second year in high school, the sophomores chose for their class officers: Bill Hile, President; Ed Whitemore, Vice-President; Rita Ottman, Secretary-Treasurer; Jean Bayman, Reporter. Mr. Stoltz was chosen the class advisor.

Many members of this class have taken part in scholastic, musical, theatrical, and athletic activities.

During the year of 46-47 the sophomores held a party in March, and a contest was held to decide the name of this party.

FRESHMAN CLASS

The class of '50 will go down in the history of Greenville High School as being the first junior high class to elect officers. During the early part of the eighth grade they elected Gary Driscoll, president; Bob Dwyer, vice-president; Jack Frankman, secretary; Bob Goodrich, treasurer; and Bill Fry, reporter. Junior high activities consisted of selling war stamps and bonds, peeling tomatoes at the Glen Karn Cannery, a class party, "Loafers' Rush," and an enthusiastic participation in junior high sports.

As Freshmen they chose Mr. Swope, football coach, to be the class sponsor. In November the class elected by ballot Jack Weybright as president with Marilyn Stocker, vice-president; Martha Bowman, secretary; Jim Ungericht, treasurer; and Bob Dwyer, reporter. These officers planned a "Peppermint Party" in January and a class picnic at Lephart's farm, in the spring.

JUNIOR HIGH

Members of Junior High School were very excited on September 3 as they signed their enrollment cards. For some it was the first time they had ever been inside G.H.S.

The eighth grade of 1946-1947 had been the first class to organize as seventh graders. The officers chosen were Gretchen Spidel, president; James Shockney, vice-president; Irene Beauty, secretary; Mary Jo Bayman, treasurer; and Dick Goodrich, reporter. That year the class sold Frazier Wilson's book, "Around the Council Fire" to raise money.

The seventh grade of 1946-1947 followed the precedence set by the present eighth graders and also elected officers. The people they chose to lead them were Mike Randall, president; Marilyn Maxwell, vice-president; Carol Keesy, secretary; Barbara Hittle, treasurer; and Sondra McVay, reporter.

An important event of Junior High School is the annual spelling contest sponsored by station WHIO. Preliminary contests are held in which 3 members from the seventh and eighth grade are chosen to represent G.H.S.

NATIONAL HONOR SOCIETY

The National Honor Society is made up of students selected by the faculty on the basis of scholarship, character, leadership, and service. In an impressive tap chapel, the students to be honored are tapped by members of the faculty and escorted to the stage where they receive their pins and are officially made members of the society.

It is because of their efforts and sincere interest in school life that the deserving students are honored with this fitting reward.

QUILL AND SCROLL

January 1946 marked the beginning of the Quill and Scroll Society in Greenville High School. At that time a charter was granted by the national organization. The Quill and Scroll is a national honorary society for high school journalists, both in the newspaper and the year book fields. The purpose of this organization is to encourage individual achievement in journalism and allied fields.

Requirements for membership in the Quill and Scroll are as follows: The student must be an upperclassman; must rank in the upper third of his class scholastically; and must have done work worthy of recommendation by the advisers and which has been accepted by the executive secretary of the society.

The national organization of the Quill and Scroll Society granted a charter to Greenville High School, January, 1946.

USHERS

The group of ushers is made up of the thirteen girls having the highest scholastic standing in their class at the end of their junior year of high school.

The ushers show people to their reserved seats for plays, concerts, and other functions held in the Memorial Hall.

These girls begin their work as ushers by serving at Baccalaureate and Commencement exercises. They continue serving at all functions throughout the following year until the new ushers replace them.

Boys composed the first group of ushers which was chosen in 1912. However, girls were given this honor in the following years.

The purpose of the Y-Teen Club is to aid the community and school and to try to prepare the girls for going out into the world and doing their best in life.

The club has meetings every fourth Thursday of the month and also has evening parties. This year it sponsored an ice cream social and several other social gatherings for the high school. It also did social work at Christmas time.

This year's officers are as follows: Betty Brown, President; Gloria Huddle, Vice-President; Joan Frankman, Secretary; Joan Baker, Treasurer; Nancy Boli, Reporter; Lorna Crawford, Service Chairman; Gloria Shiverdecker, Social Chairman; Nancy Nealeigh, Publicity Chairman; Jean Staley, Music Chairman; Grace Fowble, Program Chairman. Miss Day is sponsor of the club.

Advocate which appears each Saturday in the Greenville Daily Advocate. Also, six times yearly, the club edits the G.H.S. Mirror, a mimeographed magazine intended for the entertainment of the students of G.H.S.

A new staff is elected each six weeks the first semester and from these people, a permanent staff is chosen to serve the second semester. Below is pictured the staff which served the second semester during 1947.

SPANISH CLUB

The Spanish club, founded in 1918, is the oldest club of the school. Any student who is studying second year Spanish or who has completed it may become a member. After graduation the member may attend the functions year after year.

During this school year a part of the club money was obtained from state tax stamps. These funds were used to buy the Spanish conversation course on phonograph records, the same course used by the Army during the war.

The club held its annual banquet the fifteenth of December. A menu consisting of food from Spanish speaking countries was served.

When the school year is nearing a close, the officers make plans for a picnic, which takes place in the last week of May.

LATIN SOCIETY

"Sodalitas Latina" (Latin Society) was reorganized in 1945 after a lapse of eleven years and the present club is endeavoring to maintain the tradition of the original organization. Its purposes are to encourage scholarship, to stimulate an interest in cultural studies, and to endeavor to arouse in its members a realization of the debt modern civilization owes to Greece and Rome.

Membership is open to all students who have successfully completed one full year of Latin prior to the opening of the school year.

In addition to its regular monthly meeting, the club plans for at least two social events, including its annual Cena (Romana Dinner) in observance of Ohio Latin Week.

FUTURE FARMERS

The Future Farmers Association is composed of only the students enrolled in vocational agriculture and is sponsored by the present agriculture teacher, Mr. Glunt.

Some of the projects completed this year were a scrap drive, the annual rabbit supper, and the organization of a basketball team. There were several parties scheduled throughout the year.

The Future Farmers, not only of Greenville, but also of all over the country, now have a junior fair board each year.

FAUNA AND FLORA SOCIETY

Eleven years ago eight students organized the first Fauna and Flora Society of Greenville High School, sponsored by the local high school's Biology teacher, Miss Helen Deeter. Last year a celebration was held in the form of a spring banquet to mark the tenth anniversary of the founding of the club.

This year the club has undertaken two projects. One is communication with boys and girls of other nations in order to learn more about the fauna and flora of their land; this also provides a means of increasing world fellowship. The second project is an attempt to beautify the open court around which the high school is built.

This year's officers are as follows:

President.....	Jack Brandt
Vice President.....	Chuck Orr
Secretary	Jack Warner
Treasurer.....	John Black
Reporter.....	Jack Corle

BAND

Band activities began in the fall when the band presented a marching program at each home football game and also at several out of town games. One special program, was presented on the football field to honor several of the service clubs of Greenville, which was presented with the combined efforts of the band and the girls' chorus.

Then came basketball and the band members turned out each week to furnish music at the games.

A CAPELLA

Those chosen for the A Capella choir must have certain qualifications, such as: Interest in music, voice quality, an ability to co-operate in the group, adeptness in note reading, and a desire to learn the highest type of music.

The boys and girls in this choir are selected from the high school choruses. The choir is directed by Miss Elizabeth Hill.

This musical organization participates in many school functions such as Christmas and Easter programs, the annual formal musical and school assemblies. The choir also sings for several of the men's clubs of Greenville and for community functions.

Members of the choir assemble each home room period.

ORCHESTRA

The Greenville high school orchestra provides an opportunity for music students to explore the field of instrumental music in a great many aspects.

The orchestra, which is under the direction of Mr. Dwight Brown, was composed this year of approximately 25 students who met three times weekly for practice.

In the orchestra library is to be found some of the world's finest compositions for string. The orchestra takes part in the annual formal concert and provides music at the class plays.

HONORARY DRAMATICS SOCIETY

The purpose of the Honorary Dramatic Society is to stimulate an interest in dramatics.

Membership in the society is attained by taking part in a three act play, and serves as a reward for those students who have done outstanding work in dramatics. It is a goal which students strive to attain. There are no activities connected with membership in this organization; it is strictly honorary.

"A Date With Judy," the annual play; "Love Your Neighbor," the Junior play; and "Our Hearts Were Young and Gay," the Senior play were the plays presented in Greenville High School this year.

Through participation in all types of dramatic presentations, students develop an appreciation of the effort and work required in the presentation of a stage play.

STAGE CREW

Don Christian, Jack Diltz, Jim Canan, Dick Faulkner, Tom O'Brien and Dick Eller compose our excellent stage crew. Few people realize just how much effort goes into this work. The crew has to be present at all programs given in the Memorial Hall. Their duties include setting up the scenery, manipulating all lighting equipment and doing the many other things necessary for such occasions.

Hooray for

Greenville, in its fourth season under Coach Ray Swope, had a very successful grid campaign. Four wins, four losses, and one tie was the record hung up during the past season.

Injuries plagued the "Green Wave" throughout the season but never dampened the spirit of fight of our boys. Bob Wright, one of the leading players on the team, suffered a fractured collar bone early in the season and because of this injury was unable to play on the squad. He served as assistant to Coach Swope.

A good hard-fought contest was almost guaranteed every time the locals played because never more than two touchdowns separated Greenville and its opponent. The "Wave" played perhaps its best game against Troy's unbeaten "Trojans," losing only 12-6. The locals were one of three teams to score upon this team.

Winning ball games was the prime objective, and also teamwork, good sportsmanship and a friendly association were important to the boys. Twelve seniors will be lost to G.H.S. but a group of oncoming underclassmen should provide a nucleus for next year.

Coach Swope and his able assistant, Jack Raudabugh, deserve much credit for the accomplishments of the football team of 1946.

BOARD OF CONTROL

The Athletic Board of Control of Greenville high school is composed of the athletic coaches, the principal of the high school, the faculty manager of athletics, a junior and a senior boy representative, and a senior girl who acts as secretary. Student representatives are selected by the student body.

The board governs the athletic policies of the school, sets the admission prices to athletic contests, pays athletic bills, purchases equipment and approves the awarding of letters to boys who have earned them through participation in sports.

VARSITY BASKETBALL

Greenville's basketball squad ended the season successfully with a record of fourteen victories and four defeats, including tournament play. In the Miami Valley league standings, the Green Wave tied for second place.

Starting the season right, the Wave breezed through seven consecutive victories with little opposition. Finally Piqua dropped the Wave 28-20 in a hard fought league contest. Winning the next three league games, Greenville finally met Fairmont for the M.V.L. crown. The game was hard fought throughout with Fairmont winning 55-43.

GOLF

Four boys composed the golf team this year. Only one had played before in Miami Valley competition.

Jack Seiler was the only returning letterman with Bill, Bob Miller, and Jay Diller making up the rest of the team.

The boys enjoy playing the game in high school but also look forward to playing it in later life.

TENNIS

Mr. Oliver coached the tennis team of 1946-47, which was composed of the following members: Howard Marshall, Rodman Underwood, Glen Showalter, John Showalter, John Powell, and Bill Townsend.

The team failed to win any matches this year. They lost to Troy, 0-5, and to Piqua, 1-4. In competition with Miamisburg, they came nearest to winning with a score of 2-3. Meets with Sidney and several other schools were rained out.

All players will return next year, so the tennis team has a very bright future.

CHEERLEADERS

This year's corps of cheerleaders was one of the best groups in the Miami Valley League. Miss Silvers was the sponsor.

The group was composed of Gloria Shiverdecker, a senior, Vanis Lephart, a junior, and Kay Lephart and Regina Letner, Freshmen.

Gloria Shiverdecker completed her sixth year of cheering; Vanis Lephart, her third; and Kay Lephart and Regina Letner, their second.

The cheerleaders attended both home and out of town games where they led Greenville rooters in organized cheering.
